City to host town hall meeting on short-term rentals Monday

Kerrville, Texas (July 21, 2022) – The City of Kerrville will host a town hall meeting Monday, July 25, at the Dietert Center, 451 Guadalupe St., to discuss short-term rentals. The meeting begins at 6 p.m. and is open to all.

City staff presentations will include:

- Zoning
- Conditional Use Permits
- Definitions
- Authorized districts under the Land Use Table
- Density and distances from each short-term rental.

Citizens may contribute individual written comments on topics related to short-term rentals at various public input stations beginning at 6:30 p.m. Comments must be relevant to the station topic. Staff will be on hand to answer questions.

A public comment section will begin at 7 p.m. This section is provided for those who desire to verbally communicate ideas, concepts, and solutions to deliver potential short-term rental regulatory guidelines and zoning changes. Prior to speaking, each speaker must complete and submit a speaker request form to the city secretary by 6:50 p.m. Each speaker is limited to three minutes.

The city thanks you for your time and participation!
