KAYLA begins 2022-23 year

Kerrville, Texas (Oct. 14, 2022) – The Kerrville Area Youth Leadership Academy (KAYLA) held its first meeting of the 2022-23 school year Thursday at City Hall. New members Ry'lee Paxton, Madison Collins, Peter Lockwood, Corbyn Loftin and GraceLyn Geurin were joined by Mayor Judy Eychner, City Manager E.A. Hoppe, Senior Management Analyst Megan Folkerts, and Accounting Assistant Jacob Bogusch as they began their introduction to how local governments operate, along with the roles and responsibilities of the mayor, city council and city manager.

Attending the first KAYLA meeting of the year Thursday were, from left, City Manager E.A. Hoppe, Mayor Judy Eychner, KAYLA members Ry'lee Paxton, Madison Collins, Peter Lockwood, Corbyn Loftin, Accounting Assistant Jacob Bogusch, KAYLA member GraceLyn Geurin, and Senior Management Analyst Megan Folkerts.

KAYLA's goal is to develop youth leaders committed to learning about local government and provide an overview of the complexity and variety of opportunities available through public service.
