New library addition offers interactive adventures for kids

Kerrville, Texas (March 25, 2024) – The Butt-Holdsworth Memorial Library is thrilled to introduce our latest addition: “STEAM to Go” kits now available for borrowing. These kits come fully equipped with everything needed to facilitate interactive, hands-on learning experiences for children.

Whether utilized individually or as part of a group, each kit promises an engaging adventure. Curated around captivating themes such as animals, machines and contraptions, and the great outdoors, every kit comprises a book alongside three or four stimulating activities designed to ignite curiosity, foster creativity, and encourage problem-solving.

Accessible to all library cardholders, these kits offer an enriching educational opportunity for families and educators alike. For further details, please reach out to the library reference desk at (830) 258-1274, or visit our city's library website at www.kerrvilletx.gov for more information.
