Library to host NASA speaker, program Sunday

Kerrville, Texas (April 2, 2024) – The Butt-Holdsworth Memorial Library is excited to announce a special event in collaboration with NASA on Sunday, April 7, 2024. The library will be open for extended hours from 10:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. to accommodate this unique opportunity for the community, where representatives from NASA will answer questions and provide information about the upcoming eclipse. This is an excellent chance for attendees to learn more about the celestial phenomenon and gain insights from experts in the field.

Moreover, a distinguished NASA scientist will deliver an exclusive presentation at 1 p.m. in the library's meeting room. This presentation promises to be both informative and engaging, offering attendees an in-depth look at the science behind eclipses and their significance.

The program is free and registration is not required. For more information, please contact the library reference desk at (830) 258-1274 or visit the city's website at www.kerrvilletx.gov.
